2. Create an Account PIN

The second step that parents will want to take is to create an Account PIN. Because all the parental controls settings are native to each account, this PIN will be required for any of the parental control settings that a parent may put in place.

When active, this 4-digit PIN number will be required for any changes made to the account.

To enable this setting, users should click the gear icon in the upper-right corner of the navigation bar in the desktop game or the browser and select Security from the left-hand menu and then toggle the account pin on.

From there, users will be prompted to create a PIN number for the account.

3. Enable Account Restrictions

Because much of the Roblox platform is based off of user generated content and games, it is difficult to monitor the appropriateness of each game. Roblox allows creators to place a rating or warning on their games.

Enabling Account Restrictions means that your child can only access Roblox's curated content on the platform, not user created games.

Parents can utilize this setting on by selecting the gear icon in the upper-right corner of desktop and browser versions, select Security from the dropdown menu, select "Account Restrictions" to change the setting from "currently disabled" to the on mode.

The screenshot shows the 'My Settings' page with a sidebar on the left containing 'Account Info', 'Security', 'Privacy', and 'Billing'. The 'Security' section is active. Under '2 Step Verification', there is a toggle for 'Improve your account security...' which is currently off. Below that, it says 'A verified email is required.' The 'What are Account Controls?' section explains that restrictions can be set to limit access to settings and uncurated content. Under 'Account PIN', there is a toggle for 'Account PIN is currently disabled' which is off. The 'Account Restrictions' section has a toggle for 'Account Restrictions is currently disabled' which is also off and is highlighted with a red box. Below this, it states that the account can only access curated content and that contact settings will be set to Off. The 'Secure Sign Out' section at the bottom has a 'Sign out of all other sessions' button and a 'Sign out' button.
